Judge removes travel restrictions on Russell Means

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Court Judge Fred Nichol has removed the travel restrictions he imposed on American Indian Movement leader Russell Means as a condition of his release on bond.

Nichol said Thursday Means is required to file a bi-weekly itinerary of his travel plans with the court clerk.

Means' attorneys had asked to have the restriction lifted to allow the AIM leader to travel outside South Dakota to raise money for his defense and confer with his attorneys.

Attorneys for Means filed several other motions during Thursday's hearing.

They asked that Means' indictment be consolidated with indictments charging other AIM leaders with the same offenses.

Judge Nichol asked for briefs from both sides on that question and scheduled another hearing on the subject for Aug. 6.

Means' attorneys also asked to have his trial moved to another judicial district, asked to have the indictment against Means dismissed on the grounds that members of the grand jury were selected unconstitutionally, and asked that the government be required to list the evidence used in obtaining the indictment against Means.

Rapid City attorney Ramon Roubideaux, representing Means, asked that decisions on those motions also be postponed when Judge Nichol said he was postponing a decision on the consolidation of indictments.

WOUNDED KNEE

Source advised that he was in Wounded Knee, South Dakota when it was taken over by members of the American Indian Movement (AIM) on February 27, 1973. He remained in Wounded Knee until March 8, 1973.

While he was in Wounded Knee, he had conversations with leaders and members of the group, which took over the village. In addition, on occasion he overheard conversations between leaders and members of AIM.

On February 27, 1973, members of the American Indian Movement (AIM), with non-Indian supporters, seized hostages and by force of arms, occupied the town of Wounded Knee, South Dakota, on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, during which parts of the town were burned and ransacked, six members of AIM were wounded, two fatally, two federal officers were wounded, one permanently paralyzed, in several exchanges of gunfire between occupants and surrounding Government forces. On May 8, 1973, the occupation ended by the surrender of the remaining occupants. More than 200 arrests were made in connection with the occupation.

WOUNDED KNEE

The articles of incorporation, of the American Indian Movement (AIM), filed with the Minnesota Secretary of State, St. Paul, Minnesota, on October 1, 1968, stated that the purpose of this corporation is to solicit and broaden opportunities and general welfare for the urban Indians in order that he may enjoy his full rights as a citizen of these United States, also his special rights as an Aborigine.

On December 18, 1972, [redacted]

[redacted] Judicial, Prevention and Law Enforcement, Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), Minneapolis, Minnesota, advised that the American Indian Movement (AIM), claims to be an Indian civil rights organization whose stated purpose is to enhance the social, educational, and economic status of Indians. In reality, however, [redacted] advised, AIM is a militant organization and its leaders believe in direct confrontation with authority.

b6
b7c

He gained the confidence of several AIM leaders and they sought out his opinion of military matters. They requested his advice concerning the location of defensive trenches and bunkers and asked him other questions concerning military type organization of the group. He discussed with AIM members, the detail of bunker construction and he was asked his opinion as to how to construct bunkers and if CS type gas would be ineffective if used against the bunkers. It was agreed by the AIM members that if the trenches were three feet deep and had lateral trenches which were at ninety degree angles, the CS gas would be ineffective. They believed that CS gas would not sink below the three feet level and, therefore, any individual at the bottom of the trench would not be effected by the tear gas.

WOUNDED KNEE

He observed that the AIM militants had approximately 45 Indian males who formed what they called their Assault or Defensive team. These 45 men were roughly divided into squads. The qualification for squad leader was that this person should have served two tours of military combat duty in Vietnam.

On several occasions, he had a conversation with an Indian male, who is a member of the Assault team and this individual told him he had attended a guerrilla warfare school run by the Weatherman in the State of New Mexico. The length of the school was eight weeks.

Weatherman, formerly a faction of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) controlled the SDS National Office from June, 1969, until its closing in February, 1970. Weatherman then entered an underground status and adopted a tactic of "strategic sabotage," with police and military installations designated as primary targets.

On one occasion, he overheard a conversation where a discussion was held concerning thoughts to form the National Militant Organization. This national organization would be organized along the guidelines of those used at Wounded Knee, South Dakota. The geographical areas would be called battalion areas and they would be located as follows:

1. Minnesota and Wisconsin
2. Washington and Oregon
3. Ohio and Michigan
4. New Mexico, Arizona and California
5. Omaha - Scottsbluff
6. Colorado

Formulating school milk programs such as sponsored by the Black Panthers was also mentioned during this conversation.

Attempts were made to enlist support from the Chicano Movement headquarters in Denver, Colorado. However, there was strong antagonism between the Indians and the Chicanos at Wounded Knee, South Dakota.

WOUNDED KNEE

The overall assignments of the squads of the Assault - Defense team was as follows:

The first squad was responsible for internal security.

The second squad was assigned to the bunkers on the south side of Wounded Knee.

The third squad was assigned bunker defenses on the west side of the town.

The fourth squad occupied an area north of the village in an area near Porcupine Road.

The fifth squad faced southeast and was located in an area near Denby Road.

The men manning AIM bunkers did not have individual weapons but the weapons were left in the bunkers to be used by subsequent squads.

INTELLIGENCE MATTER

On 6/16/73 Captain [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Rapid City, South Dakota, Police Department, advised that a highly reliable source of his had been in touch with RUSSELL MEANS subsequent to a recent news conference. At that time MEANS told the source that his response to the recent letter from the White House in which the White House deferred negotiations with the Indians to the Congress of the United States, was to tell the White House and the white population to "circle your wagons".

According to [REDACTED] his source further stated that MEANS was not going to Scottsbluff, Nebraska, for the alleged AII convention to be held 7/1/73 unless U.S. District Judge FRED NICHOL references the bond restrictions imposed by Judge ANDREW BOGUE by which MEANS is prohibited from leaving the state of South Dakota without prior court approval. According to the source, MEANS will request the elimination of that restriction on the grounds that he and his fellow defendants must travel out of the state of South Dakota, to adequately prepare their legal defense because their defense is based on the treaty of 1868 and the legal authorities on that treaty are all outside the state of South Dakota. According to [REDACTED] MEANS stated specifically to the source that he, MEANS, and other AII members could use this ploy to get to their next takeover or disorder.

[REDACTED] further advised that he had recently been in touch with the Los Angeles Police Department Intelligence Unit and that he had been informed by them that a Los Angeles Police Department source had personally seen MARLON BRANDO hand $25,000 to RUSSELL MEANS. This same source also alleges that VERNON BELLECCOURT is in Italy to obtain "Asian funding" for at that time and BISSONETTE asked source to obtain a hotel room for him in Rapid City for that evening. Source stated that BISSONETTE did not show in Rapid City as indicated on the evening of June 30, 1973, but that BISSONETTE did come into Rapid City on July 1, 1973 at which time he stayed at the Trade Winds Motel where source had obtained a room for him.

Source voiced his displeasure in regards to BISSONETTE not showing inasmuch as source knows the owners of the Trade Winds Motel and he did not want to be put in a bad light with the motel management. It was impressed upon source the importance of maintaining a good relationship with BISSONETTE and other leaders of the American Indian Movement and he thereafter stated that he would endeavor to maintain the same relationship that he has in the past with these individuals.

Source stated that he does not know RUSSELL MEANS' current whereabouts but he was under the impression that BISSONETTE was still in Rapid City.

Source concluded in stating that although he did not possess any details he was under the impression that there was a considerable amount of activity at an unknown location on Kansas City Street in Rapid City approximately one week ago and source surmised that this activity may have in some way been connected with the surrender of DENNIS BANKS at Rapid City.

[REDACTED] Chief CRAZY HORSE, an Oglala Sioux Indian, but will be dedicated to all North American Indians.

This year Mr. [REDACTED] was approached by Chief FRANK FOOLS CROW from the Pine Ridge, South Dakota Indian Reservation, for permission to use land near the site of the monument during early August to hold a religious ceremony known as the Sun Dance. Possibly as many as 5,000 Indians are expected to participate in the ceremony. Mr. [REDACTED] is concerned that members of the American Indian Movement (AIM) may try to capitalize on this event for propaganda purposes. He has asked Chief FOOLS CROW to keep the AIM organization out of the ceremony. An agreement has been reached which will also keep all news media out of the ceremony and prevent all non-Indians from attending. Indian guards will be stationed at the entrance of the site of the ceremony and white guards will also be hired to keep all non-Indians out.

In working out the details of the ceremony Mr. [REDACTED] has had conferences with Chief FOOLS CROW as well as RUSSELL MEANS, DENNIS BANKS, RAMON ROUBIDEAUX and [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Minnesota.

During these conferences RUSSELL MEANS expressed concern that certain Indians who are working for DICK WILSON, Oglala Sioux Tribal Council President, Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, may try to infiltrate the ceremony. In an effort to prevent this MEANS has assigned PEDRO BISSONETTE to take charge of the Indian guards since PEDRO BISSONETTE knows all WILSON's men.

2 issues here which we have lumped

#2 after tipi meeting - incop

~~at~~ total Indian issues which would require negot.
- no longer "protest action, but

~~But~~ - AIM desires are beyond Wilson - total govt total problems - maybe we should go back & insist on Wilson thing - - are 2 issues here
- we went indep - from action still belongs to O. Sioux

LEADS FILE

TO : John E. McCarty, FBI, Rapid City, SD

July 13, 1973
DATE:

FROM : William F. Clayton, U.S. Attorney, Sioux Falls, S.Dak.

SUBJECT: Re: U. S. V. RUSSELL MEANS

The following additional information is necessary in regard to the above-named individual.

1. The statement of [] found in the FBI report dated May 18, 1973, indicates that [] States Attorney of Fall River County was present in Custer on February 6, 1973. Mr. [] should be interviewed relative to his observations in Custer February 6, 1973, and also in Hot Springs, February, 1973, particularly if there is anything he saw any of the leaders do or heard them say. b6
b7c
2. On page 10 of the FBI report dated May 18, 1973, [] states that he felt between Russell Means, Dennis Banks and Leonard Crow Dog, they were capable of making the crowd do anything that they wanted them to do at Custer, on February 6, 1973. Mr. [] should be reinterviewed as to exactly what he saw any of these individuals do or say, which led him to the conclusion they were capable of controlling the crowd. He should also be interviewed relative to any weapons he saw, if any, and who had them.
3. On page 13 of the report dated May 18, 1973 [] indicated that Dennis Banks and Russell Means met with local Indians at Rapid City, South Dakota prior to the disturbance in Rapid City on February 9, 1973. Mr. [] should be re-interviewed for the purpose of trying to obtain the name of Mr. [] source for said information, and such source should be interviewed as to the details of any such meetings and exactly who said and did what.
4. According to the report dated May 18, 1973, 107 photographs were taken by South Dakota Division of Criminal Investigation agents [] on February 6 & 7/at Custer, South Dakota. 27 of said photographs were selected as representative of all 107 photographs. The remaining photographs should be examined to determine whether or not any of the leaders are depicted in said photographs. The only leader identified in the report of May 18, 1973, is Russell Means in photograph #7.

5. On pages 14 through 17 of the report dated May 18, 1973, a statement appears by one [redacted] identified b6 BANKS AND BELLECOURT as being in Custer on February 6, 1973, and b7c particularly at being involved in an attempt to seize his truck. There is no indication that he was shown photographs of any of the other leaders to determine whether or not he could identify other leaders. This should be done. In addition thereto, Mr. [redacted] advised that one [redacted] Phillips 66 station in the west end of Custer near Highway 16 & 385, told him [redacted] that there were men on the back of [redacted] truck when he started to leave Custer. Mr. [redacted] should be interviewed to determine whether or not he can identify any of said individuals, and also as to any other observations he may have made at Custer on February 6, 1973.

TO : John McCarty - FBI
Rapid City, S. Dak.

DATE: 7/20/73

FROM : William F. Clayton WFC
United States Attorney, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

SUBJECT: United States v. Russell Means

John, the following information is necessary in regard to the above named individual.

1. Apparently [redacted] Special Agent of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, was in Custer on February 6, 1973 at the Courthouse. I have checked with [redacted] and he did not file any written reports, however, he indicates that he has been interviewed by Agents of the FBI. I have not yet found a 302 containing such interview. If the interview did in fact take place, please forward a copy of the 302 containing the results of that interview to our office, otherwise, have [redacted] interviewed as to his observations in Custer on February 6, 1973, particularly as to what he saw or heard any of the leaders do.

2. According to the report of May 18, 1973 there is some question as to who took Russell Means out of the Courthouse on February 6, 1973 and placed him under arrest. According to the statement of [redacted] found on pages 47 and 48 of said report he thought that he and Highway Patrol Officer [redacted] took Russell Means out of the courthouse, however, he himself could not identify Russell Means. Therefore Officer [redacted] should be interviewed to determine whether or not he can identify Russell Means as the individual that he and officer [redacted] removed from the Courthouse. Also he should be interviewed as to exactly what he saw and heard particularly as to anything he saw any of the leaders do or say on February 6, 1973. In this same regard on page 65 of the report dated May 18, 1973 Highway Patrolman [redacted] states that he observed Russell Means being removed from the rear of the Custer County Courthouse. He does not state who he observed removing Mr. Means. He should be reinterviewed to determine if he can identify the Highway Patrolmen (assuming they were Highway Patrolmen) who he observed removing Russell Means from the Custer County Courthouse on February 6, 1973.

Pepin, Sheriff, Custer County, Custer, South Dakota, gives a list of those individuals who were arrested on February 6, 1973 at Custer, South Dakota. However at this time I have found no 302 where Mr. Pepin has been interviewed as to his observations on said date, particularly in regard to anything that he saw or heard the leaders do or say. If he has been interviewed, please arrange for a copy of that 302 to be sent to our office. If not, he should be interviewed and a copy of any Sheriff reports that he may have filed in regard to the Custer incident should be secured and forwarded to our office.

4. According to [redacted] at page 25 of the report dated May 18, 1973, [redacted] a BIA Police Officer stationed at Bullhead, South Dakota had been [redacted]. He had been previously [redacted] Pine

Ridge [redacted]

[redacted] It is also reported that [redacted] AIM into Fort Yates. It would seem to me that Mr. [redacted] should be interviewed by the Bureau as to any of his knowledge concerning the events at Wounded Knee, South Dakota and any knowledge that he has relative to the whereabouts, actions and statements of the leadership of the Wounded Knee movement prior to and during the takeover at Wounded Knee.

5. From the report of the Bureau dated May 18, 1973 it would appear that [redacted] for the defendants in this case. She should be interviewed to determine her relationship with the American Indian Movement and any knowledge she has relative to the occurrences at Custer, Rapid City or Wounded Knee and what in her opinion led up to the civil disorder at Wounded Knee. Abernathy coming

Means absent at bond hearing; 68 Kyle arrests

DEADWOOD — American Indian Movement leader Russell Means failed to appear Thursday for a hearing on a motion to revoke his $25,000 bond.

His attorney, Ramon Roubideaux, told U.S. District Judge Andrew Bogue that he had never been served with a copy of the motion, although he had been informed orally of Thursday's hearing. Judge Bogue agreed to a 24-hour continuance.

In other Thursday developments, federal officials reported the arrest Wednesday night of 68 persons east of the reservation and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was scheduled to arrive in Rapid City Thursday afternoon on his way to a Kyle meeting with Justice Department officials.

At Means' hearing in Deadwood, Roubideaux said he had been unable to contact his client since last Monday and, he said, as of Thursday morning he still had not received a copy of the revocation motion.

"We consider the oral notice that was given as too short for a hearing of this importance," Roubideaux said.

He told the judge that "it is difficult to get in touch with Means on a moment's notice," but he admitted that the conditions of his client's bond required that he stay in contact with his attorney at all times.

Judge Bogue said the fact that Roubideaux was unable to reach Means was in itself a violation of the terms of the bond, and was cause for revocation. He labeled Means' absence Thursday as "part of a never ending series of delays."

If the defendant does not appear Friday, the judge said he will have no alternative but to consider his decision regarding the revocation motion in the defendant's absence.

"I'm stretching everything I can possibly stretch to be reasonable with Russell Means," Judge Bogue said.

The motion to revoke was offered by special assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas Ranney on the grounds that Means had failed to comply with the conditions of the bond in that he had not made "timely filings" of his travel plans and that those he did file are not an accurate reflection of his actual travels.

From Wounded Knee a government spokesman said 68 persons were arrested Wednesday night, including about 60 of the estimated 70 marchers who were turned back east of the reservation. They were arrested north of Wounded Knee in a 20-car caravan.

A group of five persons, including three women, were arrested Wednesday night, the government official said, while trying to infiltrate the federal blockade with about 800 rounds of ammunition for automatic weapons, plus high-powered rifles and a shotgun. Two other persons were also arrested trying to smuggle ammunition into the village during the night.

In Rapid City, John Thomas, a spokesman at the Wounded Knee Information Center, said the people on the march "had been invited to Chief Fools Crow's residence to meet with him."

"As they were going into Kyle," Thomas said, "they were stopped by the BIA and arrested. Three chiefs, Matthew King, Isaac Brave Eagle and Everett Janis, were close enough to hear them, went out to see what was going on and were arrested too."

Thomas said, "Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett of Rosebud were also arrested. Mrs. Burnett is overdue on giving birth to a baby and she is now in jail."

Abernathy was scheduled to arrive on a Western flight at 2:23 p.m. according to the Wounded Knee Information Center. After an airport news conference he was scheduled to go onto Kyle to meet with federal officials.

Taxes due May 1

Mrs. Walker said all taxes become due Jan. 1 of the following year, but do not become delinquent until May 1, when interest charges begin.

Means says restrictions illegal

Russell Means, American Indian Movement leader, in Rapid City Friday morning issued a statement denouncing Federal Judge Andrew Bogue for what Means termed, "misuses of the 1966 Bail Reform Act which imprison him in South Dakota and keep AIM leaders separated so they could not prepare their defense."

About the same time as Means was making his statement, Bogue disqualified himself from the case.

Means said, "Bogue has denied my request to travel to confer with Sam DeLoria, an attorney and one of the foremost authorities in the U.S. on Indian Treaties, and the Director of the Indian Law Program at the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque. The purpose of the conference was to discuss the question of treaties between the U.S. and Indian nations, which is crucial and critical to the defense of my case. Yet Bogue says I cannot go. He is using the Bail Reform Act in a manner directly contrary to its specific language, its specific intent as stated by Congress, and the cases which have been decided under it."

"The bail act says persons charged with crimes shall be released pending trial on their personal recognizance" Means added "or on the execution of an unsecured appearance bond, unless such release will not reasonably assure the appearance of the persons as required."

Judge Bogue is well aware that I and the other defendants will appear for trial, that we are anxious to appear in a public forum so the world will know of the wrongs done to my people and will know of the continuing violations of treaty obligations by the United States. Yet he has imposed restrictions which keep all the defendants in their own home states, preventing us from moving freely in this country as is our right and preventing us from preparing our defenses and to continue to organize to right the wrongs done to our people."

Means continued, "These restrictions according to the act itself may only be imposed when the judge has made a determination the person will not otherwise appear. The act requires him to take into account the individual circumstances of each defendant. Yet, Judge Bogue has apparently determined the fact that we are militant Indians is sufficient to establish we will not appear for trial and impose travel restrictions."

Special Agents were present at a press conference held by RUSSELL MEANS at Tulsa, Oklahoma, on April 21, 1973. MEANS was heard to make the following statements:

The United States recently proposed in the United Nations that because of treaty violations by North Vietnamese, the recent treaty between the two nations was no longer applicable. He stated the Indians were now saying the same thing. After 105 years of treaty violations, the Indians at Wounded Knee and the people of Oklahoma have said the United States' treaties with the Indians are no longer valid. He said they were going to militarily take over the western half of South Dakota.

When asked by a reporter if the National American Indian Movement (AIM) Convention would be held at Pawnee, Oklahoma, in May, 1973, MEANS stated national conventions would be held in Pawnee, Oklahoma, Wounded Knee, South Dakota, and in British Columbia.

When asked if he would enter the Indian campgrounds at Pawnee, Oklahoma, on May 1, 1973, even though AIM has been barred from using the grounds, he stated he would enter the grounds on that date. He said whether other Indians would enter the grounds would be up to the individual Indian.

He stated that he had just been to Cleveland, Ohio, talking to white and black organizations.

He said that in the past 48 hours, a change had come about in the Indian movement.

When asked if he was prepared for violence in taking over western South Dakota, MEANS said anyone who has been at Wounded Knee is ready for anything.

He stated that Indians at Pawnee, Oklahoma, who oppose the holding of the AIM Convention there are "apples," that is red on the outside and white on the inside.

When asked if CARTER CAMP and DENNIS BANKS would attend the meeting in Pawnee, he stated that both of these individuals are currently at Wounded Knee and their attendance at Pawnee is up to the President of the United States.

MEANS also called members of the Oklahoma press racists and said they were guilty of false reporting. He also stated the same frontier mentality exists in Oklahoma as in South Dakota and the white man's treatment of the Indian in Oklahoma makes the Ku Klux Klan look like a bunch of Girl Scouts.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your letter dated July 19, 1973, inquiring as to the contents of papers found in a typewriter case. While it appears the contents of the case may belong to Russell Means, this cannot be definitely established as of this time. It would appear there is nothing in the papers which would relate to the criminal case against Means.

Cases have been opened on the names of the persons found among the papers to determine their possible American Indian Movement (AIM) or Wounded Knee activities.

You will be kept advised of any pertinent developments growing out of the investigation of this matter.

Very truly yours,

JUDGE HEARS MOTIONS

Travel Limits Lifted
For Russell Means

SIoux FALLS, S.D. — U.S. District Court Judge Fred Nichol has removed the travel restrictions he imposed on American Indian Movement leader Russell Means as a condition of his release on bond.

Nichol said Thursday Means is required to file a biweekly report of his travel plans with the court clerk.

Means' attorneys had asked to have the restriction lifted to allow the AIM leader to travel outside South Dakota to raise money for his defense and confer with his attorney.

His attorneys filed several other motions during Thursday's hearing.

THEY ASKED that Means' indictment be consolidated with indictments charging other AIM lead-

Judge Nichol asked for briefs from both sides on that question and scheduled another hearing on the subject for Aug. 6.

Means' attorneys also asked to have his trial moved to another judicial district, asked to have the indictment against him dismissed on the grounds that members of the grand jury were selected unconstitutionally, and asked that the government be required to list the evidence used in obtaining the indictment against Means.

RAPID CITY attorney Ramon Roubideaux, representing Means, asked that decisions on those motions also be postponed when Judge Nichol said he was postponing a decision on the consolidation of indictments.

We also do not have a copy of the petition filed by Dick Wilson requesting said order. Certified copies of both the petition and the order should be obtained as well as the name of the judge who signed the order and any other witnesses that would be required to introduce the petition or order into evidence at trial.

Ascertain what records are available to prove whether or not a given defendant is an "Indian".

Are these records available to the public?

Who is the custodian of these records?

Who should be subpoenaed duces tecum to bring these records into court?

If a person is an "Indian", but does not live on either the Pine Ridge or Rosebud Reservations, what facts do we have in order to obtain records regarding the defendant, that is, do we have to know what tribe he purports to be a member of and where he lives?

How are "Indians" enrolled?

By tribe?

By reservation?

By state?

Is there a central list of Indians at the BIA in Washington, D.C.?

(2) If, when arrested, a person identifies himself as an Indian and gives an address in another state or a "civilian address", can the BIA Probate and Census Officer in that state or locale determine whether or not the defendant is enrolled as an Indian?
